You can sure get on "thin ice" when you start comparing one growers crop with another. Most tobacco growers admit that the prospects for the "72 crop aren't particularly good. This is true throughout the tobacco belt, not just Appomattox County.

There is a lot of tobacco that I haven't seen, but Riley Megginson and Henry Mann have good looking dark tobacco crops.

A wet spring and summer have increased the number of mosquitos. With warmer weather we can expect the problem to become worst.

Adult mosquitos breed in standing water-woodland pools, roadside ditches, bird baths, swimming pools, tin cans, old tires, clogged gutters and even tree holes.

The first step in control is non-chemical. Draining the water is a sound solution.

Wet areas that cannot be drained should be treated with Abate (Biothion), This is a granular material and is marketed as a 1-2 and 5% material.

For outdoor only there are two recommended materials 11% pyrethrins or malathion at the rate of 10 tablespoons in a gallon of fuel oil. These materials may be applied as a spray on adult resting areas, aerosol sprays or thermal fogs.

* * *

In case you've forgotten it is illegal to feed either cooked or raw garbage to hogs in Virginia. Reason -- it's part of the Chlolera Control Program.

* * *

IBR (Infectious Bovine Rhinotracheitis) has been identified in several Appomattox cow herds. Cattle in hard hit herds have been vaccinated.

Coughing, eye drainage, etc. are associated with this disease. Cows carrying calves can abort. Reports indicate that a number of abortations have occured and several adults have died.

If you suspect this disease contact your veterinarian.

* * *

We've set up the final tobacco insect control test demonstration with Riley Megginson. He will be using Dipel on a portion of his crop.

* * *

Sweet corn is in and there's no finer vegetable from the garden. Freezing for winter is a good way for extending its use.

Our Extension Home Economist says, "be sure that it's blanched in boiling water, large ears 11 minutes, small ear 7 minutes" She further points out that contrary to what Heloise says it's not advisable to attempt blanching corn in the home dishwasher unless there is a thermostat on the machine and you can be sure the water temperature is 212 degrees or above.

* * *

If you suffered a casualty from the flood you can get relief of Federal and State Income Taxes. Refer to I.R.S. Publication 547 "Tax Information on Disasters Casualty Losses and Thiefs". This publication can be obtained from the Richmond office.

Don't attempt to claim loss of growing crops or raised livestock. These do not qualify as a casualty loss since it is a loss of anticipated income.

At Leadership Camp

Both Dickie and Gary are State FFA Officers. They will be meeting with other state officers for a week of Officer Training. Mr. Dudley will act as leader of the school.

While at Camp, the officers will receive training in manners, dress, as well as make speeches throughout the week. Truly this will be a week which will benefit the officers of the Virginia State Association of Future Farmers of America.

Wins HD Scholarship

Miss Lee Ann Young, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Young of Concord, was named winner of the Ella Agnew Scholarship for Nursing at the Annual Conference of Home Demonstration Clubs in Blacksburg. Miss Young plans to begin training this fall at Lynchburg General Hospital.

Accompanying her to VPI to accept the scholarship were her mother, Mrs. Frank Young, and Mrs. Franklin Foster, who is president of the Stonewall HD Club which Lee Ann belongs to.

She is certain that nursing is for her after experiences as a cadny striper at Lynchburg General. Appomattox is very proud of Lee Ann and wishes her the best success in her nursing career.
